Yizkor... Remembering

We miss our dearly departed loved ones every day of the year, but their absence is most deeply felt on special occasions, on Holy Days, and at other sacred moments.

The pain of loss has been particularly excruciating for those whose loved ones died during the pandemic. We have had to rely on technology to help us observe the traditional Jewish rituals for grieving and burial. Technology has helped us reach beyond physical boundaries and include many people in our grieving who otherwise may not have been present. Including more people has brought us joy; but sharing memories over a computer has also left us feeling empty and without consolation. Our rituals, in every way we have embraced them, continue to bring us comfort and remind us that we are not alone in our sorrow.

Four times a year we observe Yizkor, taking time to remember our own loved ones, members of our own community who have passed on, Jewish martyrs, those who risked their lives to protect our freedom here, in Israel and around the world, and others who need our attention.

At these times, we reflect on the joy of their lives and the blessings they brought to us and to this world. We think of special moments that felt ordinary and everyday moments that felt extraordinary. We may even remember difficult moments when our relationships were tested. We cherish our memories, grateful for the love, guidance, values, and wonderful times of the past. In remembering, we keep them close to our hearts.

Thank you for honoring Heritage Pointe by remembering all these beloved people named at this time of Yizkor. Your continued support of the annual Yizkor book goes to support our Resident programs. Please see the accompanying form to remember your loved ones.

Zichronam livracha – May the memory of your loved ones be a source of blessing.
